Ramirez car was described as a total wreck but the driver suffered only a cut lip and was given eight stitches at Desert Hospital. ## Air Conditioning Slated for Hotel

Complete air conditioning of every room in El Mirador Hotel is planned by the time the huge Village landmark reopens for the 1959-60 season in October.

El Mirador General Manager Richard Vander Veer said today that the air conditioning is a major item on a lengthy list of improvements and refurbishings which will take place between May 17, when the hotel closes for the summer and Oct. 8, when the El Mirador reopens. Vander Veer said the hotel had enjoyed the most successful year of operation in its history.

AIR CONDITIONING is considered of major importance, Vander Veer pointed out, because revised opening date and the late closing date represent an "extension" of the El Mirador season.

Vander Veer has been authorized to secure bids and estimates on the complete air-conditioning of

Classified Ad Chiefs Meet Here

Southern California Managers Convene At El Mirador Hotel

Palm Springs today welcomed more than 100 members of the Southern California Classified Advertising Managers Association who opened their "miniature" convention at El Mirador Hotel.

The classified conclave, to be held here, features a series of panel discussions, a "brainstorming" session and a cocktail party hosted by Desert Sun publisher Ward Risvold.

MRS. FLORA SIVA presents Mayor Frank Bogert with the deed for the final right-of-way for construction of Tahquitz Drive. The road, which will be divided with a planted area in the center, will be a hundred feet wide and run from Indian Avenue to the airport. Plans for the road are scheduled to be completed on July 15, with completion set for Nov. 20. (Desert Sun Photo)

REBELLION ENDED, HOSTAGES SAFE

DEER LODGE, Mont. (UPI) — National Guardsmen firing bazookas, machine guns and tear gas crashed today to end a 35-hour convict rebellion and win the freedom of 16 guard hostages. One of the convict ringleaders murdered the other leader and then committed suicide.

Warden Floyd E. Powell led the 200 guardsmen, supported by 100 police and vigilantes in the assault on the grey fortress-like prison when he received word that the convicts had decided to shoot and burn the hostages.

IN ADDITION TO the 16 guard hostages, five so-called convict "stool pigeons"—informers—seized by the rebels escaped unharmed.

Two members of the assault team were wounded in a wild exchange of fire with the desperate convicts.

The ringleaders, Lee Smart, 19, and Jerry Miles, 44, were found dead in one of the prison towers. At first it was believed that each had committed suicide with rifles seized in the first minutes of the uprising Thursday afternoon.

BUT WARDEN Powell said one of two rifles found in the room had an empty shell in the chamber. This was "positive proof" that one of the convicts had shot the other and then killed himself, Powell said.

He said he believed Smart had killed Miles because "Miles didn't have the intestinal fortitude to carry out what he said he would do." Not to be taken alive.

THE WARDEN SAID Smart told him he was the one who triggered the uprising by fatally shooting Deputy Warden Ted Rothe Thursday afternoon. The admission was made to the warden when he was briefly held hostage shortly after the riot started.

Thus a prison mutiny started by a murder by Smart ended with a murder by Smart. He was serving a term for murder.

SMART AND MILES were the only convicts who died in the uprising. Five others who fled to the tower with the pair for a last stand surrendered meekly.

CANDIDATES WHO had filed before yesterday's 5 p.m. deadline were incumbent Donald Williams, Mrs. Alice Scully, Everett Ball and Paul Holm.

Lamb accompanied his announcement with an explanation of his reasons for running.

He felt that his "wide experience as a builder" would be useful for the enlargement and improvement of the district schools.

"The rapidly expanding growth of this area demands long-range planning and building to accommodate the student population," he said.

HE FEELS THAT he is "keenly aware" of the needs and desires of school age children because of his "great experience in youth activities."

Successor Vows to Use 'Dulles Team'

Medical Checkup Reveals Herter In 'Fine Shape'

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today announced his selection of Christian A. Herter as the new Secretary of State.

Herter flew by Army helicopter from his vacation retreat at Green Pond, S.C. for a final conference with Eisenhower this morning before the chief executive personally announced the selection of the acting Secretary of State to replace cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles.

EISENHOWER TOLD reporters he would send Herter's nomination to the Senate as soon as the Senate meets next week. Speedy confirmation was expected.

The President last Monday told Herter he anticipated the resignation of Dulles and planned to name Herter as the successor provided a physical checkup showed Herter was able to carry out the strenuous duties of the post.

HERTER, 54-YEAR-OLD former governor of Massachusetts who has been in the State Department since 1957, went to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md. last Wednesday for a check on his general condition and particularly the effect of the arthritis from which he has suffered for years.

The results of the examination were sent to the President later in the week. The White House said they showed the new secretary to be in "fine shape."

DULLES HAS SUFFERED from recurrent cancer for two years. His worsening condition forced his resignation last Wednesday. The President, however, could see the inevitability of Dulles' decision and talked to Herter in Washington last Monday about his elevation to the cabinet contingent on the results of the medical examination.

Herter told reporters at the President's office here today he assumes that the State Department will continue operating with the "some team" developed under Dulles.

HERTER DID NOT, however, want to discuss foreign policy in general terms until he has been confirmed by the Senate.

FOUR DESERT RESIDENTS JOIN SCOUT FUND CAMPAIGN

Four distinguished desert area men have been named to the campaign executive committee of the Riverside County Boy Scout Council Development Fund, it was announced here today.

The four, Philip L. Boyd, Leonard K. Firestone, Jr., Clifford W. Henderson and Edgar L. McCoubrey, will sit as part of a 16-man citizens unit in directing plans and recruitment of leaders for the development fund drive.

BOYD, WHO ALSO maintains a residence in Riverside, is a regent of the University of California. Firestone is the president of the tire and rubber company that bears his name. Henderson is regarded as the "founder" of Palm Desert. McCoubrey has been a civic leader in Palm Springs for many years and owns Plaza Motors here.

Robert Walter, chairman of the committee, said that the four will be asked to meet with the entire committee sometime in the immediate future for the purpose of determining the leadership for the campaign.

"ALTHOUGH OUR campaign goal is $197,000," Walter said, "we actually need $300,000 to provide adequate year-round scouting centers for the more than 10,000 boys who, according to conservative studies, will be enrolled in the Riverside Boy Scout Council by 1965."

The campaign will seek to provide funds for:

- Expansion and rehabilitation of Camp Emerson near Idyllwild. The camp hasn't had addition or alteration for 40 years.
- Purchase and development of a new site at Joshua Tree for high desert camping.
- Rebuilding and rehabilitation of Camp Evans at Mt. Rubidoux.
- Capital investment in canoes, boats and trailers to be used in mobile camping tours.

Tub-Shower Combs

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newly installed bathrooms today are likely to have both a tub and shower. Five or six years ago, there was likely to be only one tub in a two-bathroom house; the second bathroom generally had only a stall shower.

But stall showers continue in popularity, and are used often in a large tub. In luxury homes, shower stalls sometimes are classified as "spray rooms."

DHS Launches $3,000 Charity Fund Campaign

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — With a "realistic" $3,000 goal before them, the United Community Agencies of Desert Hot Springs yesterday launched the first completely independent community charity campaign in the town's history.

Albert W. Langlois, chairman of the organization's board of directors, said that this year's campaign is not connected with any drive in any other area. Funds raised in Desert Hot Springs will be utilized in benefits for the community, he said.

LANGLOIS ASSUMED the reins of the campaign after campaign chairman Mrs. Rose Bertram left first refused the post, then accepted on the basis of rendering preliminary services prior to her departure from the town on April 15.

The director noted that in spite of an unrealistic figure ($5,000) set for last year's drive, the community did respond in such a fashion as to enable the town to pay "its own quota" to the Boy Scouts of America at the county level.

HE ALSO NOTED that "sizeable" contributions were also made to American Red Cross and other agencies.

Langlois noted that nearly 25 per cent of the total realized in the fund campaign here would be directed into youth work programs. The campaign drive will be conducted on all levels in the community until the $3,000 quota is reached.

Adventures in Living

'Pasternak Miracle' Most Dynamic Factor, Clarke

the impact of Boris Pasternak — both in what he has written and in what he has done — may prove to be the most dynamic factor in the short and stormy history of Russian literature, according to a world-traveled lecturer.

John Robert Clarke, whose "Adventures in Living" lecture-discussion series is held each Thursday evening in the Desert Inn here, said that "the Pasternak miracle" which is sweeping Russia could result in even more disastrous results for the Red hierarchy than the author's written indictment.

"PASTERNAK'S 'Zhivago' is more than a criticism of Soviet 'unthink,'" Clarke declared. "It is an open-faced indictment of the cult of the group, of 'oneness' and of the disregard for individual expression wherever it exists. It is as much a criticism of West as of East because the 'organization man' is everywhere."

Out of it all, in a series of dramatic steps that featured but did not culminate with Pasternak's rejection of the Nobel Prize for literature, have come indications of the author's character.

"Pasternak is a feeling man," said Clarke. "He underwent the agony of losing the Nobel Prize realizing that there is something vital, something wonderful about such a loss."

IN LOSING THE award, Clarke feels, Pasternak has set a living example of a man who lives his values instead of paying lip service to them.

The respect that has been created for the author as a result of his self-denial was detailed in stories related by the lecturer.

Clarke said that many copies of the banned work, laboriously copied by hand, are now being circulated among Soviet thinkers.

And, he added, at a meeting of several hundred Russian writers held secretly in a barn this past year, Pasternak reportedly conducted a poetry reading, using materials that were years old but still unpublished.

In the reading of one work, the paper slipped from his grasp. As he stooped to retrieve it, the voices of the writers in the room resumed where he had halted and finished the poem — still some 70 lines long — by memory.

"Such," Clarke explained, "is that curious thing known as the power of unarmed truth."

CLARKE SAID that he believed — on the basis of talks held with Soviet officials en route to America from Europe last year — that Pasternak is "reasonably safe" in Russia. He gave these reasons: —Official Russia still has the greatest respect for Pasternak's writing ability. —Although all of his immediate family has fled Russia for sanctuary in France or England, Pasternak has repeatedly demonstrated his loyalty to the mother country. Chief example was his rejection of the Nobel award.

—The nature of the "Zhivago" criticisms — directed against unthinking people everywhere — demonstrates a universality that is almost impervious to attack.

"FURTHER," CLARKE believes, "the spiritual content of this book is a powerful thing. Pasternak says that immortality is now, not something abstract in some other time."

Dr. Peale Tells Congregation Why He Loves the Desert

To many of our visitors the gay, carefree atmosphere of Palm Springs is its prime attraction. Others get inspiration from the grandeur of the mountain vistas. But to many—particularly city dwellers—the quietness of the desert is one of its greatest appeals. Among the latter is Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who has visited here several times in the last three years. Indeed, Dr. Peale has fallen so much in love with the desert that he hopes to have a "shack" in Palm Springs after he retires from the ministry.

The famed New York minister, author and lecturer who has helped so many people with their personal problems is a great believer in "the art of quietness." It is difficult for people to think when their minds are in a whirl, he says. That is why he believes the desert is a good environment for the solution of problems.

Noted for his power of description, Dr. Peale can paint a word-picture of the desert that will transplant his listeners in a few minutes from the tumult of the city to the quietness of the desert. And in rapt attention they seem to experience for a few moments the quietness of which he speaks.

So it must have been Marble Collegiate Church a few Sundays ago when Dr. Peale was telling his congregation about a recent trip he made to California.

"I went out into the desert, to a spot I am really fond of," he said. This is the great southwest desert which, up to less than fifty years ago, was uninhabited by man. To me there is an indescribable fascination to the desert. It gets me. The stars are so clear and bright in the desert air you almost think you can reach up and pluck them. The moon seems lower, nearer to the earth, and there are the wonderful shadows moving over the desert's vast expanse. There is the deep blue of the desert morning, changing to a hazier blue later in the day, and to indigo at night. There are sands, the sagebrush, the mesquite, the clumps of cottonwood. The sand is clean, and it drifts, like the sea, into dunes. And the wind comes soft and fresh across the desert, with a pleasant little chill in the air.

"I have just about decided that when I retire I am going to get myself a shack on the desert. However that may be, it is a great experience to drive out on the desert, turn off the motor and sit and forget time. My wife and I did this one day while we were at Palm Springs.

"For a long time neither of us said a word. Believe me, that was an achievement, because my wife and I are both great talkers. But the stillness gets to you, the quietness lures you. Suddenly I said to Ruth, 'What do you know, I have it!'

"I startled her so she nearly leaped out of the seat. 'You have what?' she asked.

"It was the answer to problem I has been trying to solve for a long time.

What brought the answer? I think it was the long meditation, the hard work I had put on it beforehand, and the relaxation that came through the quietness of the desert. Quietness has great power of reorientation."

There are two other reasons why the Peales like to come to Palm Springs, we learned from another of his recent sermons. He was telling his congregation how people who discover the law of abundant supply find one of life's greatest secrets. To illustrate the point he said:

"Recently my wife and I spent several days in Palm Springs in a small hotel run by an inspiring friend of ours, Mrs. Ruth Hardy. The hotel called the Ingleside Inn, is a little gem of a place, a charming retreat from a world of tension where one may renew body, mind and spirit.

"While we were there I noticed that the place was full of happiness. People might arrive anything but happy, but in a little while happiness would infiltrate them. And it wasn't because of the bougainvillea or the orange trees or the glorious mountains or the calibrific climate and balmy desert air. It was this woman who practices so well this spiritual law of which I speak.

"For over a quarter of a century she has been most successful. She has had her own troubles, personal as well as business. There was a big debt to deal with. . . . She was not doing too well at first and a man made her an offer for the hotel property. It was a good offer; it would give her an out, but she needed something to do. She spent much time praying and thinking about the problem. In the middle of the night she arose, walked around her lawns, then picked up the Bible and began to read. . . . She was an earnest seeker after the truth and it was conveyed to her that (what she had read) meant to believe and to give and to love.

"Even though it may defy the rules of the hotel business (a dining room with less than fifty rooms) here is one of the nicest hotels I have ever visited and a most successful enterprise as well. I said to her, the other day, 'There is such beauty, such love and healthy quietness here that actually I would travel three thousand miles to spend just a few days with you.' Ruth Hardy herself exudes happiness and is loved by all who know her."

No finer tribute could be paid to our desert country and one of our good citizens than these eloquent words by Dr. Peale. Having travelled all over the world and met a great many fine people, makes these tributes even more impressive.

We hope that Dr. and Mrs. Peale will have a home here, and that he will not wait until he retires. Anyway, he will not likely ever retire, except perhaps to step down from the pulpit. As a lecturer and author he will always be active and enjoy the feeling of usefulness that has always kept him young.

'You Making Any Progress?'

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

I've got a letter that's really a beauty—Seems that I am a Miserable coot.

This communication came from a young lady whose name I shall not mention.

Because from what she said, you'd think she wasn't a lady and besides if she was young, how could she have learned all those words.

ANYWAY, this letter had to do with Daylight Time which sneaks up on us a week from next Sunday morning.

It took me apart. In fact, in so many small little pieces that I don't think I can put myself together again.

Just call me Humpty after this.

IT BEGAN nicely enough. "Dear Phat—I see that you are still opposed to Daylight Time."

Then the tempo and the mood changed.

"Why don't you get smart? 'Don't you know you are a hard-shelled old crab? 'A miserable coot?'

THAT SENT me to the dictionary.

A Coot, according to those compilers of words, is: a—stupid bird, slow in flight, and are not classed as game birds. (I like that, I'd hate to be gamey.) b—Colloq.—A stupid fellow, a simpleton. (No thanks for that.)

WELL THIS is how it is. The letter continued:

"Don't you ever think of us poor working girls?"

"Now, when we leave the office, the sun has already dropped behind Mt. San Jacinto. It's dark. Nothing to do but go home, wash out our stockings, disassemble the make-up and after a brief flourish with TV or radio, go to bed.

"BUT, AFTER April 26, when we leave the office the sun will still be in the sky. We'll have a chance to do our leisure clothes, enjoy the things for which Palm Springs is noted."

"But you, you, well, let's skip that as I am putting a stamp on this."

"You talk about the beauties of dawn and how, under Daylight Time, you'll be getting up in the dark again."

"TO BORROW one of your own expressions, I'll lay you $ to $ you haven't seen the dawn in months."

"You probably stay in bed until the sun is high in the sky and then give lip service to the pleasures of being up before dawn."

"So please lay off any more cracks about Daylight Time."

"The only objections, outside of yours—come from the cows and the chickens, and the other similar species who do not know about time, anyway."

"Love, And I hope you have a good rest going to bed while it is still light."

YES, BUT lady, think. Under daylight time it's going to be an hour to wait before driving out into the desert to sit in a parked car and admire the stars.

Harking back to last Wednesday—The man said that little things count and three of them provided $100 in exemptions.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

We are on our third barbecue set this season. This gives you an idea how far our roots go into the social structure—we don't even SPEAK to people who are just starting to barbecue. Upstarts.

A barbecue set shows you have arrived. (What I want to know is when do we take off again?)

While I have remained simple, the barbecue has become extremely complicated.

OUR FIRST barbecue was almost a campfire. We just put a framework of loose brick—we were leftovers from the house, anyway, and didn't cost a dime. We put up this framework and put charcoal underneath it. We touched it off and put the stove grill on top.

All around us, our neighbors were building great brick-and-steel ovens. Massive affairs with warming sections and slicing boards. Spits and grills and built-in refrigerators.

IT MAKES a man think, I can tell you, when your child comes with tears in her lovely eyes and declares:

"When can we have a barbecue with a built-in witch's seat, Daddy?"

Well, the next year we got a Chinese oven from Trader Vic. It was the best barbecue we ever had. However, we lent it to a neighbor and they bent something. Anyway, I cannot get it back together.

We shopped the new barbecue carefully. Some people in our set have been dropped from guest lists for failing to observe the barbecue rules.

THE BARBECUE is portable. That is, you can wheel it around the yard.

It has three legs. It has a warming oven. It has a thermometer on the warming oven. It has a cutting board that pulls up. It has an electric spit and an electric motor to run it.

It has an electric fire starter. You put the starter under the charcoal and turn on the juice.

Another time I took the lock off the front door and repaired it. When I put it back, you could only lock yourself in the house from the outside. You could not lock other people out from the inside.

We all just ignored it. That seemed the best thing to do.

MY IDEA on this barbecue is why pull it around? Let it stay where it is.

OR LIFT it up. With a pair of old dish towels.

Anyway, don't bother me with mechanical details. I put it to fool around and do not intend to fool around with it any more.

I PURCHASED the barbecue and have taken care of my social obligations. When people come around, I meet them in a chef's cap and an apron with funny sayings printed on it. They can see that I am a third generation barbecue man.

Any more complaints and I will suggest something unmentionable. I will suggest we cook on the stove.

and the charcoal burns. Isn't that marvelous?

IT SEEMS I got the legs on backward. The thing comes in pieces and you put it together. It comes with simple instructions. But I am no mechanic. I am a barbecue artist.

There is a handle to pull this contraption around. And the way I put the tripod legs on when you pull the handle it dumps burning charcoal on you.

This information came to me in a very polite note left on the kitchen table:

"WOULD YOU look at the barbecue legs and see if they are all right?"

The reason this is done by note is because sometimes I go wild when things go wrong. That is my artistic temperament. Watch out for it.

"The legs are okay," I wrote back huffily. "What's wrong with them?"

EARL WILSON:

Is TV Leaving L.A. for N.Y.?

NEW YORK — Using a sneak-punch, New York's trying to recapture TV from Los Angeles. Broadway claims the Oscar fiasco proves Hollywood lacks TV brains. Right now, Jeanne Crain, Jane Powell, Walter Pidgeon, Tab Hunter, Ed Wynn, John Raitt, Kathryn Grayson, Vincent Price and Eddie Albert — of Hollywood — are involved in shows here, for which they had to be brought across-country. To New York's heckling about the Oscar bust, Hollywood replies, "Yes, but don't forget, YOU had quiz shows!"

The Broadway crowd insists, however, that there must be some good reason that the stars come from Hollywood to New York to do the spectaculars and specials. Is it that the engineering and producing and directing experts don't go westward somehow (in TV, that is)?

The Beverly Hills restaurateur, Mike Romanoff, tells me that his slowest night is Thursday. He's figured out that it's because "Playhouse 90," the live drama show, is on TV that night, and that the movie stars stay home to watch the movie stars' movie-star on TV.

That show — ironically — originates now in New York. Anna Maria Alberghetti just bought a handsome man's watch for "A.H." but she's also fond of Hollywood director Claudio Gutzman, so two reckon she ain't really cracked up yet about Buddy Bressman, from whom she recently became disengaged. There was another slapping in "Destry Rides Again" in Boston. Dolores Gray's mother slapped Director Michael Kidd whom Dolores had already slapped (They may retile the show "He Who Gets Slapped"). Gwen Verdon, winning her fourth Tony Award the other night, sighed, "Poor Michael, I once slapped him, too. Maybe it's a good omen for his show."

Honeymooning at the Harwyn, British comedian Dickie Dawson said his bride Diana Dors first saw him when he was working at the London Stork Club. She wanted him for her act and he soon found her using his lines. "She married me," he insisted, "for my material."

I've found some guys who paid their taxes with a smile — they were comedians.

To ease your tax headache, here are some of their lines: "Tax forms are just blankets; blanks. Our generation was born on the wrong side of the tax."

THE BIGGEST strides toward safety in traffic have been made by long-legged pedestrians. — Tony Pettito.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH . . . Jack Herbert says he was musically inclined on a recent night out — went out fit as a fiddle, came back tight as a drum.

WISH I'D SAID THAT . . . This is the time of year when little things count — and three of them add up to a $1,800 exemption.

A reader offers this simile: "As rare as the fellow who goes to the drive-in theater alone."

That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Great New Star

HOLLYWOOD — Jack Webb's first new Pete Kelly's Blues segments haven't been so hot but Jack isn't worried. He figures he's got a great new star — on the order of Clint Walker or Jim Garner — in Bill Reynolds. I think he's right. But I shudder to think of having to wear those caps of the again, if Reynolds' cap-wearing bit starts a "new" fad!

NBC is now sole owner of Loretta Young's old TV series. The network will give them reruns. It's a good deal for Loretta, a smart businesswoman. She gets $45,000 every time one of them is re-beamed.

ASIDE TO "Irish J. B." of Philadelphia: Dinah Shore is sorry, too, that she forgot to sing some Irish come-along-yes on her pre-St. Pat's show. But Dinah hopes she made up for it to you and all the other Sons of Old Sod when she sang "em on a subsequent show. Declains Dinah: "Please forgive me — I love all you Irishers!" And a big Dinah-type MWAH! to you, too, Dinah.

Dancer George Champion's direction of GE Theatre's "No Man Can Tame Me" has NBC-TV talking a deal with him to produce and direct six specials next season.

Tall Carleton Carpenter poppin' off: "I hear Warner Bros. paid a tall price for that Broadway show, 'Tall Story,' and now they want some tall actors for it. Will you tell 'em I'm the type?" P.S. "Tall Story" is a comedy about basketball.

PONTIAC is on a "special kick," thanks to Perry Como, whose last one-shot spec for the automaker belted all competition on the rival networks. They will beam eight such specs next season. Victor Borge is already set for one.

I've got another word for Western shots. When I heard that ex-movie producer Sammy Fuller was going to produce a series titled Trigger-Happy, I phoned to check if it's another oats opera. Said he, warily, "Not quite — just say that it's Western-themed!"

DEMITRI TIOMKIN, a four-time Oscar-winner with his musical score for "The Old Man and the Sea," is looking for other worlds to conquer. He'll be writing the background music for some CBS-TV ventures.

Lowell Thomas, visiting Hollywood and trying to recall the three things that George Bernard Shaw said he remembered most about America: could remember only Niagara Falls and the Rocky Mountains. I clued Thomas: the third was the Amos 'n' Andy radio show.

RALPH EDWARDS made only one pitch on one This Is Your Life segment for small contributions to build a shrine to the ill-fated crew of the battleship Arizona, sunk in the Pearl Harbor sneak attack. To date he has received over $150,000 from his millions of TV viewers.

This is the age of specialization. Laurie Mitchell, who played a small part with Marilyn Monroe in "Some Like It Hot" for 14 weeks, is now being offered by her agent to the TV networks as a Monroe imitator — or should I say, MIMIC? Agent claims Laurie spent most of her time on the soundstaging studying the MManerisms and is now ready for her "new career."

TO GET back to Ralph Edwards — he has hired Will Hays Jr., son of the late president of the Motion Picture Production Code Committee, to write a new series titled Your Prayers Are Always Answered.

Did you see Playhouse 90's show about unwed mothers, "In Love, Expectation?" A trade observer aided to me, "It packed all the dramatic punch of a social worker's handbook."

Pic. Elvis Presley "took five" from his GI post in Germany to record the theme song for The Rebel New Western series starring Presley's old pal Dick Adams.

JUDI MEREDITH, out of The George Burns Show after a series-long battle with George's son Ronnie over who gets top billing, is consoling herself with the femme lead opposite Earl Holliman in a new CBSeries, Hotel de Paris.

Revolutionary War Hero Gen. Francis Marion will be the subject of Walt Disney's new series, Swamp Fox. It will be filmed in South Carolina.

Clint Walker's "Yellowstone Kelly" movie won't be shot in Yellowstone Park because the picture has to start shooting right away and the national Park won't open until late May or early June. So Clint's Warner Bros. bosses scouted around and found a shooting location whose terrain is almost the same as Yellowstone's — Flagstaff, Ariz.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Desert Sun:
We thank you for the time you took.
And we had lots of fun.
We surely did enjoy our trip. To the mighty Desert Sun.
P.S. Thank you for the picture in the paper, too! (signed Victoria Pollock, Den Mother and Cub Scouts; Thomas Pollock, John Purcell, Robert Henry, Tom Kieley, Jr., Raymond Lotz, Ricky Henderson, Daniel Chandler and Peter Wright, Cub Scout Den 8.)

Editor, Desert Sun:
This is a belated, but nonetheless sincere, "thank you" for your efforts in publicizing the need for the construction of an overpass at the intersection of Ramon Road and Highway 60-70-90 at Thousand Palms.

We were very happy when Mr. Beckey announced a short time ago that the State Highway Department has accelerated its plans for the construction of an overpass at this point, and moved it up to the immediate future.

We feel that the publicity given by your paper helped immeasurably in expediting this needed improvement.

The Library board was quoted as saying that the new branch library building, a converted private residence, will be permanent.

THE OLD BRANCH library, located at 1136 South Palm Canyon Drive will be closed this summer and the new quarters will be established.

Langford said that Norton handled the complete negotiations on the sale without commission.

Pros Beef Answered By USGA

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Golf Association, long accustomed to the beefs of the brassie brigade responded to a snorting Sam Snead today that it desired only championship conditions for the U.S. Open at Winged Foot in June.

The pro golfers annually criticize the course on which the Open, golf's most coveted prize, is played. Slammin' Sam jumped the complaint gun by charging before the New England Professional Golfers Association that the USGA sets up a "miserable obstacle course" for the Open.

BY INNUEDO, the USGA retorted that the pros play so many "dog" courses they don't know a good championship test when they see one.

"At most, I doubt if they play four good courses a year," explained Joe Dey, executive secretary of the USGA. "We are interested in championship conditions, not in tricky or unfair courses, and we frequently pull the host club back from extremes."

The pros complain almost annually that the Open course is made into a monster because the host club doesn't want its course made to look ridiculously easy by the long-hitting, sharp-putting pros. Thus tees are lengthened, fairways are narrowed, traps are increased and/or enlarged and every other conceivable barrier to low scoring is instituted.

THE WORST atrocity was Detroit's Oakland Hills in 1941 where traps were placed deliberately to catch pro-length drives, bunkers blossomed like mushrooms and the greens were shaved lightning fast.

Medinah in 1949 instituted changes which lengthened its 17th hole, a one-shotter over water into one billed as "the toughest hole in the world." USGA officials banned its extra length tee simply because 25 per cent of the field never would have gotten past that hole without committing homicide.

Southern Hills at Tulsa, where the Open was played last year, was a magnificent course. Hospitality led this host club astray when it decided on new sand for its traps and came up with a silicone mixture somewhat akin to ladies' bath salts. Balls actually rolled into one trap and sank out of sight.

"THERE IS no question but what the golfers can criticize some aspects of some of the courses," Dey admits. "After all, no course is absolutely perfect. But give us the benefit of the doubt and admit that we try our best to come as close to perfection as possible. 'All we're asking is a fundamental championship test. What is that? Is it an easy course where you reward good shots and penalize poor ones?'"

The fact is that the USGA wants the year's toughest test of golf for the game's top title. Yet it does specify general standards. As example, on par-four holes the average width of the fairway must be 32 to 35 yards with a "dollar" of two-inch rough two yards from the fairway. Beyond that, the primary rough is four to five inches deep.

ON THE GREENS there is a 20-inch dollar of chipping height with a dollar six-foot collar two inches deep and then the rough. This is to penalize the wayward approach shot.

"We're going to make Winged Foot as long as possible," Dey veals. "But we are interested in seeing that it is a good, fair course. Sometimes we may have been somewhat negligent and failed to keep in touch beforehand with the changes the host club have made."

"At times we have been as surprised as the golfers and have had to make adjustments. But I believe that everybody is going to be happy at Winged Foot."

Not everybody. Only the winner winds up "happy." But, what the man didn't say, everybody is going to have to play the same course — and the man who wins this one will, as usual, be a fine champion.

Dodgers Set Back by Three Cub Homers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unbeaten Cleveland has a perfect record and a "perfect" new bullpen phenom in Dick Brosowski, who hasn't yielded a single run since putting on an Indian uniform.

Brosowski already has saved three of the Indians' five victories this season and has not given up a hit or a run in any of those appearances.

He took over for starter Gary Bell at the start of the eighth inning Friday night, zipped past the last six batters and was credited with his first victory when Cleveland scored in the ninth to beat Kansas City, 4-3.

The victory kept the Indians a game ahead of the second-place White Sox, who handed the Tigers their sixth straight loss, 6-5. Baltimore beat Washington, 4-3, and Boston blanked the Yankees, 4-0, in the other American League games.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE, the Cardinals clipped the Giants, 4-1; the Cubs downed the Dodgers, 9-4; the Phillies defeated the Reds, 5-1, and the game between the first-place Braves and last-place Pirates was curtailed because of rain with the score tied at 2-2 after nine innings. It will be replayed from the beginning at a later date.

Lee Walls, Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn each socked a homer for the Cubs in their win over the Dodgers. Los Angeles led 4-1 until Chicago tied the score in the seventh on Banks' third homer of the year, a walk, Dale Long's triple, and Walls' sacrifice fly. Clem Labine, who relieved starter Stan Williams, gave up a run in the eighth and Moryn put the game on ice with a two-run homer off Johnny Podres. Reliever Bill Henry was the winning pitcher.

NEW YORK (UPI) — First Landing, Atoll and Intentionally, three of the leading candidates for the Kentucky Derby, clash in the $75,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica today and if one of them comes up with a "big race" he'll head for Louisville as favorite for the Rose Run.

Currently Silver Spoon and Easy Spur share favoritism for the running of the Kentucky Derby at 4 to 1. Right behind them in the winter book odds are First Landing and Atoll at 5 to 1 with Intentionally next at 6 to 1.

Lane Wins Over Busso by TKO In Sixth Round

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Clever Kenny Lane called for a return match with lightweight champion Jos Brown today but said he'd "settle" for a shot at the welterweight title.

Lane, the first-ranked 135-pound contender, scored a sixth-round technical knockout over fourth-ranked Johnny Busso Friday night in a nationally televised fight at Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Lane's veteran manager, Jack Doc Kearns, immediately repeated an earlier offer of $75,000 to Brown for a title defense here or in Houston, Tex., this summer.

Brown scored a close 15-round decision over Lane in Houston last July.

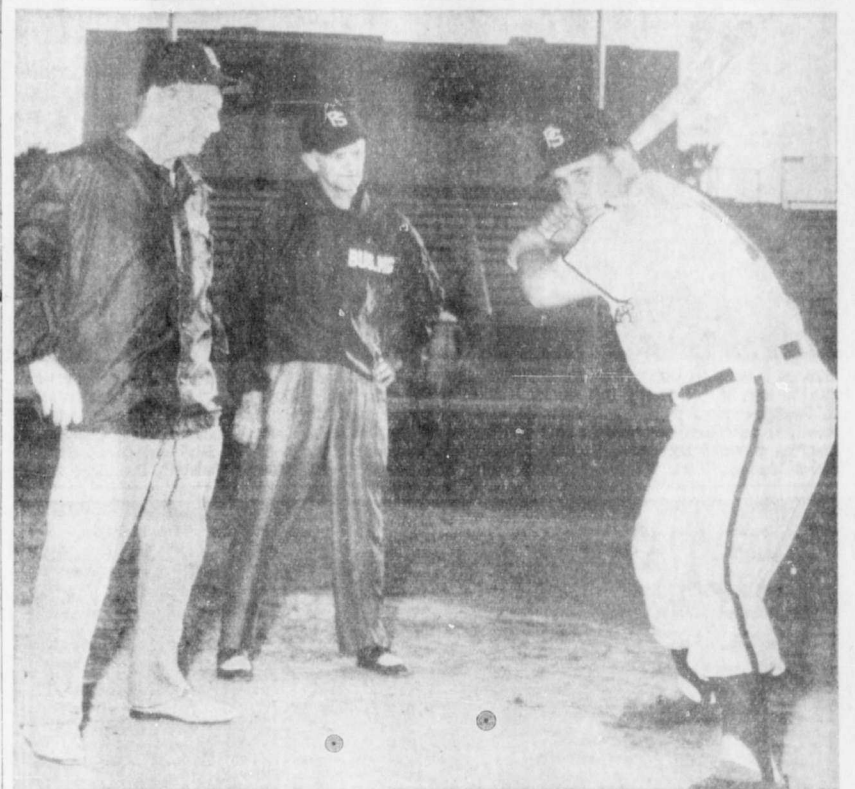

"But if Brown won't fight us well go after the welterweight crown," Kearns said. "We'll guarantee champion Don Jordan whatever he wants. Money's no problem."

Jordan defends the 147-pound crown against former champion Virgil Akin next Friday in St. Louis.

Indians to Start Long Home Stand Next Tuesday

Again in sole possession of first place in the Riverside County League baseball race, Palm Springs High School's Indians return to their home grounds next Tuesday when they host Beaumont High at 4 p.m. at the Polo Grounds.

Coach George School's boys, were unable to play at home for almost the entire first round of the RCL schedule because the Sacramento Solons of the Pacific Coast League were using the Polo Grounds as a training site.

BUT THE SACS have now departed and the Indians will move in.

Despite the fact that they had to take to the road and give their opponents the last crack at bat for six games, they won five of them and are a half-game ahead of Hemet today.

At home Coach School believes, they'll have the advantage for, batting in the bottom half of the innings, especially the last if necessary, they can change their strategy and not take chances to punch over the winning run, but play for a tie and another inning.

BEAUMONT, the Indians' first home foe, has a 3-2 mark. They played one tie with Hemet, the game being called by darkness.

San Jacinto comes here Thursday to start the second round.

The Tribe defeated San Jac at the latter's diamond, 8 to 4 to open their RCL campaign.

Palmer, Haas Tie for Houston Classic Lead

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, consistent winner now at the peak of his professional golfing career, and seldom-playing Freddie Haas Jr., headed the shortened field of 70 today for the third round of the $30,000 Houston Invitational golf classic.

The 43-year-old Haas, who spends much of his time now selling insurance and designing putters at New Orleans, fired a sizzling six-under-par 66 Friday to pull even with Palmer at 134.

Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., took a bogey four on the 15th Friday and missed an eight-foot putt on the last green to give him a 68 to go with his opening day's 66.

"Wonders never cease," the friendly Haas said with a big grin after two-putting the last hole to pull even with Palmer.

Jackie Burke Jr., Klamesha Lake, N. Y., also turned in a six-under-par 66 Friday to place him in sole ownership of third place at 136. Burke one-putted seven greens, including a 30-footer on the 13th for one of his six birdies.

Fourth-place spot was held by Jay Neibert of Sanford, Fla., who carded a 67-69-136. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., held fifth place with 67-70-137.

Next with 138s were J. C. Gooste, Knoxville, Tenn.; Wes Ellis Jr., Aldercrest, N. J., and Paul Harney o Worcester, Mass. Bunched at 139 were Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C.; Bob Goalby, Belleville, Ill.; Peter Thomson, Melbourne, Australia, and Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.

Military Demands to Continue

General Reports To Lions

By AL LE ANCE
Like a heavyweight contender slugging in the dark, the United States is today busting down a blind alley that could terminate in disaster just as easily as victory.

"We are looking ahead in an area where the future is unknown," said Brig. Gen. Prescott Spicer, commander of the 27th Air Defense Division. "No one knows how it will end."

BUT, WHETHER the outlook is pessimistic or full of "bright promise," the nation's military machine must continue to create a monumental defensive structure, General Spicer contended.

The stubby, crisp-talking Air Force executive, who heads a West Coast aid defense screen centered at San Bernardino's Norton Air Force Base, addressed his remarks to members of the Palm Springs Lions Club.

He painted a clear picture of the military demands on a nation that has lived in an "environment of international tension" since 1941.

THE COST of this existence is counted in billions expended and more billions budgeted for the machinery required to provide defense from atomic attack and pave the nation's path into space.

Defense today, measured in aircraft, missiles and massive, electronic detection systems, "costs more per pound than gold," General Spicer reported.

"We're operating under a shadow of fear and uncertainty," he said, "but there's no way out, short of a disastrous defensive war."

But General Spicer does not believe that war is the answer.

TO CLEAR the "shadow," the government is speeding weapons development and research into areas never before encountered. "A lucky chance could put us years ahead," Spicer said, pointing out that an unlucky break could have an equally disastrous effect.

"We do not know where it will end," he explained. "There seems to be no limit to where man and his mind can travel."

But the best way to ward off an attack is to "carry a big stick," and General Spicer believes that we'll probably carry the "stick" and its heavy price tag for a long time to come.

PlayerStage Announces Third Play of Season

Jean-Paul Sartre's highly controversial story of mixed moral values, the prize-winning play "The Respectful Prostitute" was announced as the third presentation of the season by Martin Beck's PlayerStage company.

Beck said that the play would open a 10-day run in El Paseo Theater here on May 8.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT ended a six-week negotiation over rights to the play, Beck explained. He said that the determination to perform the widely-discussed Frenchman's effort had been reached "months ago" but that other factors had needed "discussion."

"This is the kind of a story any legitimate theater is proud to do," Beck said. "It packs a tremendous wallop and at the same time carries all of the requisites of high-quality drama."

BECK SAID HE would announce cast for "Respectful Prostitute" early next week.

Earlier this season the PlayerStage company produced "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter" and "Visitor To A Small Planet."

Talent Show Presented by CC Mariners

CATHEDRAL CITY — A "Talent Show" sponsored by the Five C's Mariners of Cathedral City Community Church was presented in the church Friday.

A tap and ballet were danced by Denise LeClair and Phyllis Sing and pantomime numbers were presented by Carolyn Ziegler, Linda Lake and Sally Gorges. A "Shaker Chimes" duet by the Kirkpatricks followed and Frank Miller whistled a solo. A bass solo was then sung by Evan Hilding and Ken Duxbury close the show with a magic act.

Refreshments were served. The show was staged by Ken and Kay Duxbury and funds accumulated from it will be used in the campaign to purchase an organ for the church.

WHITEWATER BIDS DUE ON APRIL 28

COACHELLA — Bids on the next phase of the Coachella Water District's Whitewater River Project — a section between Cathedral City and Tamarisk Country Club — will be opened at 10 a.m., April 28, in district offices in Coachella.

Water District Manager Lowell Weeks said that the two-year-old project is "moving nicely" at this time.

WORK IS now progressing on the $30,000 phase of the flood control channel which runs from the Crosey Subdivision to Palm Avenue. Nearing completion is another section, with work valued at $70,000, from Palm Canyon to the Crosey Tract.

The phase for which bids are to be taken at the upcoming meeting of the district board runs from Date Palm Road to Wonder Palms Road.

WHEN COMPLETED, the channel will delineate the route of the Whitewater River from Salton Sea to Indian Avenue here.

"We're working at top speed on the job," Weeks said, "because we recognize what it means to the Palm Springs desert area."

HE SAID THAT establishment of the complete route of the Whitewater will not only eliminate flood hazard in the region but will also free "much land" for development. Flood hazard has withheld approval of development for much of the land adjacent to the route of the Whitewater.

Construction has been in progress on phases of the project for more than a year now, Weeks noted.

ELIMINATE CAPITAL GAINS TAX RECEIVE TAX-FREE INCOME FOR LIFE

POMONA COLLEGE ANNOUNCES a new investment plan which can provide you tax-exempt income for life as well as other substantial tax savings. By exchanging securities at market value for a tax-exempt life income contract guaranteed by the college, you will...

- eliminate all tax on capital gain
- obtain tax free income for life
- receive 20% contribution credit
- reduce your income tax
- have more spendable income
- provide income for your survivor
- lessen estate and inheritance taxes
- establish a memorial fund in your name at the College.

Since the College is a tax-exempt organization, it can do for you what you cannot do for yourself. (1) It can take your appreciated property, whether real estate or securities, and capitalize it at market value without tax on the gain. (2) It can reduce your adjusted gross income subject to tax by as much as 20% in the tax year you acquire your contract. (3) It will pay you and your survivor income for life which is free from Federal tax, and in some cases, free from state income tax. Best of all, tax savings pay a portion of the cost of your contract and you receive tax-free interest for life on these savings.

Write today for free booklet "Tax-Exempt Income for Life from Pomona College." It will show by example what this program can do for you.

FOUNDING MEMBER OF THE FIVE ASSOCIATED COLLEGES AT CLAREMONT

"ROCKS ON THE ROOF" is the current best seller of author Jim Backus, who will appear on the Book and Authors Guild panel at the Tennis Club on Tuesday. It's his funny memoirs that include anecdotes of the creation of Mr. Magoo, his role as Judge in TV's "I Married Joan," and other Backus characters. His humor has been described as vitriol in powdered sugar form.

Hildy Crawford, Society Editor

MICHAEL EDWARDS, whose baritone voice has been heard in numerous Broadway revues and musicals, is programmed to sing favorite songs from hit shows, when he appears Monday afternoon on the Woman's Club's final program.

Woman's Club Flower Show on Monday

Palm Springs Woman's Club will wind up its club year on Monday, when it stages its annual Flower Show at the clubhouse.

The public is invited, as always, to view the floral exhibit, which will be open between the hours of 1 p.m. and 2 p.m., chairman Mrs. Harry Yesley announced today.

Displays will include roses, specimen blooms, bouquets, mixed bouquets, vase arrangements, dry arrangements on driftwood, cacti and desert flowers.

In addition there will be a patio exhibit of paintings done by club members. An innovation this year, the exhibit is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jenny Dreier.

Appearing on the club program, which begins at 2 p.m., will be Michael Edwards, baritone and Broadway star who will sing favorite selections from hit shows. Edwards sang at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe in New York, was in the cast of "Toots of the Town," was with Olsen and Johnson for three years, and appeared with Mae West in "Diamond Lil."

Mrs. Charles Burley is chairman of the tea committee for the flower show. She will be assisted by Mrs. Francis Brugman, Mrs. Georgia Carpenter, Mrs. Effie Freeman, Mrs. J. C. Gregory, Mrs. Chester Hadden, Mrs. Kota Henderson, Mrs. Archie Linkletter, Mrs. Fred McGee, Mrs. Bradstreet Miller, Mrs. H. F. Pendery, Mrs. O. J. Roen and Mrs. William J. Summerbell.

Save colorful whole-page pictures in magazines for making book jackets to cover and protect worn bindings.

Trio Hostess Bridge Luncheon at Tennis Club

Cacti blossoms, pink roses, white stock and multi-colored iris formed the strikingly beautiful centerpiece at the bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Chauncy Mahannah. Mrs. Earle Arnold and Miss Hazel Gross Wednesday in the Bougainvillea Room of the Tennis Club.

Following the luncheon, bridge was enjoyed with high scores going to Mrs. William A. McCarty, Clare Kinne, Walter Yeaton and Howard Matthews.

Guests invited to enjoy the afternoon were Meses. Herbert Burns, George Chandler, Howard Matthews, Roy W. Burton, William A. McCarty, Grace Steenberg, Glenn Watson, David Carlin, Thomas Holland, Walter Yeaton, Francis Pruitt, Clare Kinne, Charles Gorman, William Froude, Herbert Winkler, Vahan Alchian and Miss Lillian Sebelius.

Bassetts Back in Milwaukee after Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bassett and children have returned to their home in Milwaukee after a 10-day vacation at the Tennis Club. This was the first time the Bassetts had visited Palm Springs and they were so impressed they are already making plans to return again next season.

While here the Bassetts took a great interest in Desert Circus Week and thoroughly enjoyed Kangaroo Court, even to the extent of paying their fine when arrested. They also visited with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Consentino, winter residents from Chicago, who have a home on Patisiempo Drive.

Bassett is vice president of the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company.

Around Town with Hildy Crawford Phone FA 5-5005

A real contribution to this winter's schedule of events ... rounding out a program heavily weighted down with social and sports events ... has been the Book and Author's Guild's first season in Palm Springs ... Book lovers have been fascinated with the programs ... that mean contact with the literary world ... and a new approach and understanding of the authors' works ... Pappy Boyington (with his "bad boy" approach that glosses over a spectacular military record) held his audience enthralled ... and author-humorist-television actor Jim (Mr. Magoo) Backus is sure to do the same thing next Tuesday when the panels conclude for this season ...

Made possible through the efforts and interest of Auntie Pearl McManus ... this series achieved importance in its first panel ... and it is to be hoped that it can be continued ... for next year promises to bring us some of the biggest names in the world of books ...

At the beginning an attempt was made to send invitations to all who might be interested in joining ... but it is more than possible that many were missed ... To you the Guild extends a warm invitation to attend this final panel on a guest status (the cost is not great) ... and find out if you want to be a member next year.

If you haven't been to any of the panels ... don't miss this one ... but, do make a reservation by calling Mary Young at FA 5-6392 ...

Others on the panel include Ruth Baus ... author of "Who's Running This Expedition" ... story of a housewife's adventures in Central America ... David Humphrey who wrote "Ghost Dance" ... which is the tale of an Indian Messiah who breathes life into the dusty reservations after years of starvation and desperation ... J. Kent Clark ... author of "Kings Agent" ... themed by the question ... "Why didn't some bright Tory assassinate James II and prevent the Revolution of 1688?" ... and Charlotte Armstrong who wrote "Duo" ... The panel will be moderated by Lee Cooley ...

Mrs. Richard F. Pace of Sacramento is occupying a Tennis Club bungalow for a week ... and renewing old friendships ... The Paces are former owners of Palm Springs Music ... but now live in Sacramento where he's manager of the biggest and newest Woolworth store ...

Palm Springs makes a deep impression on visitors ... and many become so inoculated with desert fever that they can scarcely wait to return ... One group of visitors who didn't have a chance ... were those who were here as houseguests of those Palm Springs enthusiasts the Tony Consentinis ... who live in Chicago but love Palm Springs ...

Like Mr. and Mrs. N. Mavigliano of River Forest, Illinois (they will be back next winter) ... Mr. and Mrs. C. Vendegna same town (they are seriously considering buying a winter home here) ... Among others enjoying the hospitality of the Consentino home this winter have been ... Chief of Police and Mrs. Charles Caliendo of Melrose Park, Illinois ... and Captain and Mrs. Louis Caparelli of Chicago ...

Pen Women Report on Activities

Membership activities were reported on when the Palm Springs Branch of the National League of American Pen Women met at the Palm Desert home of Clara Spanagel. The group is composed of professional women of the creative arts.

Betty Elliott, treasurer and also secretary of the Laguna Beach Art Association, who has again been appointed head of make-up for the 1959 Arts Festival's famous Pageant of the Masters, had painted a water color of the Indian Wells landscape, which had been accepted in a show. Her work was one of 102 selected from 1200 entries.

Grace Harmon read several of her animal myth poems which she is preparing for a book which will be illustrated by Marjory Adams. Marjory Adams, branch president, had two of her representational paintings hung in an otherwise abstract show at the La Jolla Art Center Membership Annual, April 4-May 3. Her double portrait, "Bea and Jim" has been hung in the Society of Western Artists annual at the Young Memorial Museum, in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park. She and her artist husband, William Darling, who also had a painting accepted, drove north to attend the reception-preview of this most important show on the Pacific Coast.

Amelia Gardner was congratulated for winning the trip to Hawaii given by the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival for the best-designed Arabian costume. Madrid Anderson showed some of her work in her chosen field of research, creative symbolism.

The hostess's home was eloquent "exhibit A" for her talent for design.

Guests for the afternoon included Valerie Woodworth, Edith Koppelson, Helen Cook, plus five-year-old Tamara Eve Gardner, who was entranced with the animal poems.

Hold First Donor Dinner

B'Nai Brith Women and their guests gathered at the Racquet Club Thursday night for the associations first Donor Dinner, with the crowd totaling around 125.

Presentation of checks, representing money which the group has earned for charity, and a fashion show of Hawaiian-themed clothes, featured the evening.

Mrs. Anne Cobin presented the annual check to Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz, who accepted it for the Temple Isaiah. Following a custom established last year, the B'Nai Brith women expressed their appreciation for Desert Sun publicity, honoring Sun society editor Hildy Crawford by presenting a check for $100 in her name to the charity of her choice. Last year the $100 went to the Desert Circus for local charities, and this year Mrs. Crawford chose United Fund, designating the gift for the Boys Club.

Following dinner, which was served buffet style in the Mural Room, there was a showing of fashions from Diamond Head Sports Wear, commented by Marge Thatcher. The 3-minute show was crammed with a variety of colorful and charming sportswear from the Islands, modeled by Dzo Dzo, Peggy Paul, Barbara Foster and Carrie Craig.

President Anne Cobin and ways and means chairman Rena Spears thanked all the women participating in staging the dinner, including co-chairmen Marion Schwartz and Lucille Pavny, and Bea Wittenberg, credit chairman.

The "Happy Birthday" song was sung for member Irene Harris and there was dancing to the music of Teddy Noell and his orchestra. Jolie Gabor drew the numbers for the door prizes, which included several from her own smart shop, and a television lamp from the Land of Lamps.

Melba Blum, who was an active worker during her residence here, came down from Beverly Hills to attend the dinner and received a warm welcome.

Marines Start Terrier Missile Training Tests

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Terrier missiles — the Navy's ground-to-air knockout punch designed to halt enemy aircraft before they're close enough to do damage — are being tested by Marines of the Alpha Battery of the 2nd Medium Anti-Aircraft Missile Battalion at a coastal Navy installation.

The men are training with the deadly missiles at Point Arguello on the Southern California coast. Target drones representing enemy aircraft have been cut down with regularity by the unerring accuracy of the missiles.

More Twentynine Palms Marines are slated to break in on the Terrier after Alpha Battery finishes training. Baker Battery goes next, the Marine Corp Base said.

Tea to Honor All Officers

CATHEDRAL CITY — A tea honoring the newly installed and retiring officers of the Women's Association of the Cathedral City Community Church will be hosted by the members in the church hall at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 21.

Kathleen Norton, lyric soprano, will be presented in song accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Norman Wickland.

TOP AWARDS WON BY SUN TOWNERS

CATHEDRAL CITY — Sun Town artists monopolized the prizes — they took four of six first places — in a Gallery Exhibit judged by Gaylord Richmond, Palm Springs, in Sun Town Patio Gallery here this week.

The exhibition will remain on display from 4 p.m., daily in the gallery at 68-661 Broadway.

ONLY TWO ARTISTS, Mable J. Stober of Trariview and Edna Ward of Desert Trailer Village in Palm Springs, broke into the Sun Town monopoly. The former won in the weaving division with a handbag and the latter won the needlework section.

The Sun Town winners were: Darwin Taylor, first in painting division for an oil landscape.

Alice Powell, first in mosaic division for a crushed glass work. Lottie Bramman, first in ceramics division for turquoise bud vases.

Gertrude Melius, first in leather division for a hand-tooled tote-bag.

THE SHOW WAS A formal inauguration of the gallery at Sun Town with all entries accepted, all non-juried. Rules and regulations for the gallery are now being developed and are expected to be ready for the coming season.

Mosaic — Edith Schonek, Sun Town, second place; Harold Gruber, Sun Town, third place.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is I married a man with too many sisters. I held a good position before I was married and didn't exactly come out of the hills, but my husband's sisters think they know everything and are very free with their advice. One tells me how to dress, another one tells me how to wear my hair and another tells me how to arrange my furniture. I have heard from all of them that I am not "the type" they expected their brother to marry. (What could they mean by this?) Is there any way I can be friendly with them without letting them run my life?

DEAR TOO: Be friendly agreeable and willing to listen to their advice — and then do exactly as you please.

polish furniture. I take care of the lawn and garden. I own a car, but she never lets me drive it. I carry my lunch and walk to work. I get $3 a week allowance and cigarettes. You hear about rights for women. Are there no rights for men? I wish you could help me.

DEAR NO: There are "rights" for men... but only for those who are man enough to demand them. A little less "wishbone" and a little more backbone.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem with my boyfriend. We go to the same school and he brings me home when school is out. I like him a lot but when we get home I have trouble getting him to leave. I'm afraid people will start talking about us if he keeps coming in and staying so long. Please tell me how to tell him to leave without making him mad.

WHAT TO SAY
DEAR WHAT: It isn't necessary to tell him to go — simply say, "I wish you could stay longer but I have so much to do that I must start now."

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. J.: People are usually "down on" the things they aren't "up on." Study the subjects from all angles.
